Maria's Story

Maria is 47 and lives a busy, joy-filled life with her husband and children. She loves musical theatre, hosting family dinners, and takes pride in her senior administrative role at the company she's been part of for over 20 years.

Eight years ago, Maria was diagnosed with relapsing-remitting multiple sclerosis (MS). Although she usually recovers well between relapses, flare-ups can still bring real challenges, especially with fatigue, muscle weakness, and difficulty maintaining good posture.

The Challenge

During a relapse, Maria found sitting comfortably almost impossible. The fatigue and muscle weakness meant that even short periods of sitting would leave her sore and drained, often forcing her to lie down and miss out on time with her family. It was a frustrating experience that affected her mood, her independence, and her ability to enjoy daily life.

Finding the Right Solution

After a clinical assessment, the HydroFlex chair was recommended to help Maria stay comfortable and supported, particularly during relapses.

The HydroFlex is designed to adapt to changing needs, offering postural support, pressure care, and flexibility that fits perfectly with Maria's active lifestyle and family life.

Maria's Story...

...How the HydroFlex Helped.

The Difference It Made

With the HydroFlex, Maria can now:

- Stay upright and supported even when her posture weakens.
- Use Tilt-in-Space to manage fatigue and relieve pressure when she needs to rest.
- Benefit from adjustable head, trunk, and pelvic support for comfort and stability.
- Work from home using a tray attachment, keeping her connected and productive.
- Enjoy effective pressure care thanks to built-in WaterCell Technology.
- Be moved safely and comfortably by her husband using the ergonomic push handle.

Life with the HydroFlex

The HydroFlex has given Maria a sense of reassurance and independence. It's adaptable enough to support her now, and can evolve with her if her condition changes in the future.

Most importantly, it's helped Maria stay part of family life, even during difficult days. She can rest when she needs to, join family meals, and continue doing what she loves, all with the right support behind her.

> During a relapse, sitting comfortably used to feel impossible, and it meant I missed out on time with my family. The HydroFlex gives me the support I need, when I need it most.
